As of 2022, the Cotswold Wildlife Park will remain closed during the last three weeks of January and the first week of February; except from at weekends when the Park will be open from 10am until 4:30pm or dusk (whichever is earlier, with last admission being at 3:00pm). This is to allow for essential maintenance to be carried out.

Misuse of a season ticket will result in the ticket being retained by the Park and the remainder of the ticket's duration will be forfeited. Cotswold Wildlife Park reserves the right to refuse admission. If a season ticket has been defaced or shows signs of being tampered with, admission will be refused.

Lost season tickets will incur a £5 replacement fee. Season ticket holders are subject to standard rules of entry.

Cotswold Wildlife Park reserves the right to close due to bad weather conditions (e.g. snow, high winds) at any time of the year. Periods when the Park is closed due to bad weather will not be extended onto season tickets.
